The Public Health Alliance Central Eastern Europe Summit

The Public Health Alliance Central Eastern Europe (PHACEE) summit intends to promote and support the cooperation between the Central, Eastern and Southern European Countries by proposing a Public Health Alliance that encompasses every action to protect, advocate and advance Health Safety and Security without discrimination and territorial division, fostering effective response to health threats, and sustaining Public Health leadership to achieve sustainable development by 2030. This 2019 edition will elevate the discussion on key strategies to fight the antimicrobial resistance and healthcare associated infections under the One Health perspective.
