

ONLINE WORKSHOP

Supply Chain during COVID-19

Local cost: R250

International cost: $20

Duration 2hrs Per day

This online training will demystify how AI-based simulation can help in supply chain planning during coronavirus.

SCM executives can learn from the experience of both successful simulation examples and simulation ideas in the pipeline. This training will help SCM executives to plan their operations better and contribute to their organizations' preparedness during and after coronavirus pandemic.

This course will discuss:

- AI-based simulation process for SCM
- A successful example of SCM simulation of CPG industry during coronavirus
- Simulation ideas for coronavirus situation
- Applicability and examples of SCM simulation in different industries
- The path for SCM executives to leverage AI-based simulation in their operations We look forward to your attendance and participation. Please feel free to forward this fireside short training to your colleagues and contacts who could be interested.

Hours of Learning - No deadlines are applied to this training and it can be started at anytime or run several times in a day from Monday to Friday.